Reflection
 The miracles of Our Lord are inseparable from his Person. His miracles differed from that of prophets and others inasmuch as theirs were answers to prayers, granted by a higher power. But his flowed from the majestic life that was vested in him. That is why St. John calls them, in his gospel, "signs" or "works", meaning that they were the sort of thing that might be expected from the Son of God. They were evidences of Jesus' divine revelation. But they were even more, for they testified to his redemptive action as the Saviour of the world. By healing the palsied and the lame and the blind, Christ clothed with visible form his power to cure spiritual diseases. These physical diseases were to him symbols of that which was spiritual. He often passed from the physical fact of the miracle to its symbolic and spiritual meaning. For example, blindness was a symbol of blindness to the light of faith. By casting out devils from those who were possessed, he pointed out his victory over the powers of evil, whereby men would be freed from slavery to evil and restored to moral liberty.

Sunday of the Word of God (formerly Bible Sunday)
 The Australia Catholic Bishops Conference has confirmed that from 2021 the 1st Sunday in February will be dedicated to a special observance of Sacred Scripture. Pope Francis asks us to mark this Sunday with a certain solemnity, and to "celebrate, study, and disseminate" the word of God, "for we urgently need to grow in our knowledge and love of the Scriptures and of the risen Lord." (Apostolic Letter Aperuit Illis) Among ways Catholics are being encouraged to mark the day are special display of Sacred Scripture or the Book of the Gospels, the establishment of Bible study groups or the adoption of lectio divina (a traditional practice of scriptural reading, meditation, and prayer).

Prayer to St Joseph
 Blessed Joseph, husband of Mary, be with us this day. You protected and cherished the virgin; loving the child Jesus as your Son, you rescued him from the danger of death. Defend the Church, the household of God, purchased by the blood of Christ. Guardian of the Holy Family, be with us in our trials. May your prayers obtain for us the strength to flee from error and wrestle with the powers of corruption so that in life we may grow in holiness and in death rejoice in the crown of victory. Amen
