Reflection

In Genesis, we find Abel offering a lamb, the firstling of his flock, in a bloody sacrifice for the expiation of sin. Later on, God asked Abraham to sacrifice his son Isaac - a prophetic symbol of the Heavenly Father sacrificing His own Son.
In man, the body is a kind of cage of the soul. In Christ, the Body was the Temple of Divinity. In the Garden of Eden, we know that man and woman were naked but not ashamed. This is because the glory of the soul before sin shone through the body and became a kind of raiment. Here too in the Transfiguration the Divinity shone through humanity. The Old Testament was coming to meet the New. Moses the publisher of the Law, Elijah the chief of the Prophets - both of them were seen shining in the Light of Christ Himself Who, as the Son of God, gave the Law and sent the Prophets. The subject of conversation of Moses, Elijah and Christ was not what He had taught, but His sacrificial death; it was His duty as Mediator which fulfilled the Law, the Prophets and the Eternal Decrees. Their work done, they pointed to Him to see Redemption accomplished. Even in this moment of glory, the Cross is the theme of the discourse with the celestial visitors. But it was death conquered, sin atoned and the grave despoiled. The light of glory which enveloped the scene was joy like the "Now let me die," which Jacob said on seeing Joseph, or like the Nunc Dimittis which Simeon uttered on seeing the Divine Babe. But in the case of Our Lord, it was as St Paul said, "Having joy set before Him, He endured the Cross." The voice [of God] testified to the unbroken and undivided union of Father and Son; it recalled also the words of Moses that in due time God would raise up from Israel One like Himself Whom they should hear.
Venerable Servant of God, Archbishop Fulton J Sheen

Reading Ministry Training A refresher/training session for those already on the roster for our Reader/Commentator ministry will be held after morning Mass on Sun 7 March (approx. 9.50am). Inverell Sacred Heart Parish extends a warm welcome to all our new parishioners.

Prayer to St Joseph

Glorious Patriarch St Joseph, whose power makes the impossible possible, come to my aid in these times of anguish and difficulty. Take under your protection the serious and troubling situations that I commend to you, that they may have a happy outcome. My beloved father, all my trust is in you. Let it not be said that I invoked you in vain, and since you can do everything with Jesus and Mary, show me that your goodness is as great as your power. Amen
